James Arthur CARROLL and Helen Mary Celestine Carns GRAHAM had the following children:

- +13 James Arthur Phillip Jr CARROLL (c. 1930-1954)
- +14 Eileen Mary CARROLL (1931-2021)
- +15 Bernie CARROLL (1934-2016)

Earl (Zev) Winfield GRAHAM, son of Louis Winfield GRAHAM (c. 1881-c. 1958) and Hannah GRIFFITH (c. 1880-1963), was born on March 24, 1903 in Akron, OH. He died circa August 1, 1980 in Long Island.

Both Jim Carroll and Helen knew Zev quite well before Jim died.

Zev was born in Akron, Ohio, moved to NY on the Rose Hill campus to go to Fordham in 1923 on a college baseball scholarship where he played center field and was a formidable batsman. He also played basketball and was described as "a flashy basketball forward. He was 5'6" and weighed 150 pounds. He loved the horses and was a great athlete. He was an outstanding college football quarterback and kicker, leading the University to a 8-1 record in 1925 and earned Honorable Mention All-American Honors. Apparently in one of his best games he had scored a 100 yard touchdown. One of his teammates pointed out that a championship horse named Zev had won the Kentucky Derby and the Belmont Stakes toward the Triple Crown. A match race was set up with the English Derby winner, Papyrus, to determine the world champion. The quadruped Zev won the race by five lengths on October 20, 1923, the same day that Fordham played Lehigh. Lehigh won the game by a score of 9-6, but it was Earl Graham's performance that stole the spotlight. In the fourth quarter, with Lehigh on Fordham's 10-yard line, Graham picked up a Lehigh fumble and ran almost the length of the field to score Fordham's only touchdown. His feat was immediately compared to that of the equine Zev, and he was called "Zev" for the rest of his life. After college Zev served as football and basketball coach at All Hallows High School in the Bronx. He then returned to Fordham Prep to coach football, basketball and baseball for 12 years where he led Fordham Prep football to ten winning football seasons, two CHSAA baseball City Championships and one basketball City Championship. It was during this time, he befriended "Vinny Lombardy" and coached both George and his brother Joe Paterno. In the words of the Class of 1936, "Coach Graham infuses into his cohorts, his own unquenchable spirit and inexhaustible energy" a testament to his belief that great coaches do not just win games, they instill indelible qualities that stay with their players for the rest of their lives. In 1942, Zev was lured away from Fordham Prep to Brooklyn Prep, where he became the school's signature coach of the 1940s. After his time at Brooklyn Prep, Zev coached at Haverstraw High School in Rockland County and at Valley Stream South High School on Long Island, where he spent the remainder of his coaching career. In 1971, he was inducted into Fordham University's Athletic Hall of Fame. It was at Fordham where he met and became friends with "Vinny Lombardy". He later coached both Joe and George Paterno in football at Brooklyn Prep and became lifetime friends.

- +14 Bernie CARROLL (1934-2016)

Earl (Zev) Winfield GRAHAM, son of Louis Winfield GRAHAM (c. 1881-c. 1958) and Hannah GRIFFITH (c. 1880-1963), was born on March 24, 1903 in Akron, OH. He died circa August 1, 1980 in Long Island.

Both Jim Carroll and Helen knew Zev quite well before Jim died.

Zev was born in Akron, Ohio, moved to NY on the Rose Hill campus to go to Fordham in 1923 on a college baseball scholarship where he played center field and was a formidable batsman. He also played basketball and was described as "a flashy basketball forward. He was 5'6" and weighed 150 pounds. He loved the horses and was a great athlete. He was an outstanding college football quarterback and kicker, leading the University to a 8-1 record in 1925 and earned Honorable Mention All-American Honors. Apparently in one of his best games he had scored a 100 yard touchdown. One of his teammates pointed out that a championship horse named Zev had won the Kentucky Derby and the Belmont Stakes toward the Triple Crown. A match race was set up with the English Derby winner, Papyrus, to determine the world champion. The quadruped Zev won the race by five lengths on October 20, 1923, the same day that Fordham played Lehigh. Lehigh won the game by a score of 9-6, but it was Earl Graham's performance that stole the spotlight. In the fourth quarter, with Lehigh on Fordham's 10-yard line, Graham picked up a Lehigh fumble and ran almost the length of the field to score Fordham's only touchdown. His feat was immediately compared to that of the equine Zev, and he was called "Zev" for the rest of his life. After college Zev served as football and basketball coach at All Hallows High School in the Bronx. He then returned to Fordham Prep to coach football, basketball and baseball for 12 years where he led Fordham Prep football to ten winning football seasons, two CHSAA baseball City Championships and one basketball City Championship. It was during this time, he befriended "Vinny Lombardy" and coached both George and his brother Joe Paterno. In the words of the Class of 1936, "Coach Graham infuses into his cohorts, his own unquenchable spirit and inexhaustible energy" a testament to his belief that great coaches do not just win games, they instill indelible qualities that stay with their players for the rest of their lives. In 1942, Zev was lured away from Fordham Prep to Brooklyn Prep, where he became the school's signature coach of the 1940s. After his time at Brooklyn Prep, Zev coached at Haverstraw High School in Rockland County and at Valley Stream South High School on Long Island, where he spent the remainder of his coaching career. In 1971, he was inducted into Fordham University's Athletic Hall of Fame. It was at Fordham where he met and became friends with "Vinny Lombardy". He later coached both Joe and George Paterno in football at Brooklyn Prep and became lifetime friends.

Jim and Helen knew Zev very well prior to Jim's death. Helen was a strong, spirited and vivacious women. She was cultured, well mannered, educated and played piano. She often corrected your English and had her own manner of speaking and pronunciation of certain words. She was a very interesting lady and was not afraid to voice her opinion. The original "Liberated Woman" she was known to take days off and go by herself into NYC or Atlantic city. She wore red high heels and drank beer and Irish whiskey into her 80's.

James Arthur CARROLL, son of Felix Patrick CARROLL (1854-1923) and Mary Agnes MCLAUGHLIN (c.

1859-1939), was born on May 19, 1899. He died on September 10, 1934.

He met Helen at the beach when he was 21 and she was 16, it was love at first sight for both of them, they dated for 7 years before they married. He was the quiet type and she was vivacious. He had a gentlemanly manner and goodness and was always respectful and loving. He died when he was 35 after he was made Assistant District Attorney in the Bronx, NY. They dated for 7 years before they married and had three children, Jim, Eileen and Bernie.

1930-1954.

James Arthur CARROLL and Helen Mary Celestine Carns GRAHAM had the following children:

- +5 James Arthur Phillip Jr CARROLL (c. 1930-1954)
- +6 Eileen Mary CARROLL (1931-2021)
- +7 Bernie CARROLL (1934-2016)

Earl (Zev) Winfield GRAHAM, son of Louis Winfield GRAHAM (c. 1881-c. 1958) and Hannah GRIFFITH (c. 1880-1963), was born on March 24, 1903 in Akron, OH. He died circa August 1, 1980 in Long Island.

Both Jim Carroll and Helen knew Zev quite well before Jim died.

Zev was born in Akron, Ohio, moved to NY on the Rose Hill campus to go to Fordham in 1923 on a college baseball scholarship where he played center field and was a formidable batsman. He also played basketball and was described as "a flashy basketball forward. He was 5'6" and weighed 150 pounds. He loved the horses and was a great athlete. He was an outstanding college football quarterback and kicker, leading the University to a 8-1 record in 1925 and earned Honorable Mention All-American Honors. Apparently in one of his best games he had scored a 100 yard touchdown. One of his teammates pointed out that a championship horse named Zev had won the Kentucky Derby and the Belmont Stakes toward the Triple Crown. A match race was set up with the English Derby winner, Papyrus, to determine the world champion. The quadruped Zev won the race by five lengths on October 20, 1923, the same day that Fordham played Lehigh. Lehigh won the game by a score of 9-6, but it was Earl Graham's performance that stole the spotlight. In the fourth quarter, with Lehigh on Fordham's 10-yard line, Graham picked up a Lehigh fumble and ran almost the length of the field to score Fordham's only touchdown. His feat was immediately compared to that of the equine Zev, and he was called "Zev" for the rest of his life. After college Zev served as football and basketball coach at All Hallows High School in the Bronx. He then returned to Fordham Prep to coach football, basketball and baseball for 12 years where he led Fordham Prep football to ten winning football seasons, two CHSAA baseball City Championships and one basketball City Championship. It was during this time, he befriended "Vinny Lombardy" and coached both George and his brother Joe Paterno. In the words of the Class of 1936, "Coach Graham infuses into his cohorts, his own unquenchable spirit and inexhaustible energy" a testament to his belief that great coaches do not just win games, they instill indelible qualities that stay with their players for the rest of their lives. In 1942, Zev was lured away from Fordham Prep to Brooklyn Prep, where he became the school's signature coach of the 1940s. After his time at Brooklyn Prep, Zev coached at Haverstraw High School in Rockland County and at Valley Stream South High School on Long Island, where he spent the remainder of his coaching career. In 1971, he was inducted into Fordham University's Athletic Hall of Fame. It was at Fordham where he met and became friends with "Vinny Lombardy". He later coached both Joe and George Paterno in football at Brooklyn Prep and became lifetime friends.

From Sandy's biological father: your mom and I were just kids in a weak relationship n her dad was an asshole and gave me a choice of "leave or go to jail but either way he made it clear I wouldn't be with his daughter",,, about 2 or 3 years later Julie found out I was working a show by her and came by and showed me 3 pics of you,,, we talked a bit but she didn't know where you had been placed and that was the last time I ever saw her,,, ever since I've been waiting for this day.

He added: we had just move to Florida and didn't know anybody,,, so her dad kept her in the house then sent her back to Va to live with her mother just before she had you.

Helen GRAHAM (1904-1997)

1. Helen Mary Celestine Carns GRAHAM, daughter of Hugh John CARNS (c. 1874-1951) and Mary Frances SULLIVAN (1876-c. 1949), was born on January 29, 1904 in Bronx, NY at home. She married James Arthur CARROLL in 1927 in Our Lady of Mercy, Bronx, NY. She died on February 16, 1997. She married Earl (Zev) Winfield GRAHAM.

Helen Mary Celestine Carns GRAHAM

Jim and Helen knew Zev very well prior to Jim's death. Helen was a strong, spirited and vivacious women. She was cultured, well mannered, educated and played piano. She often corrected your English and had her own manner of speaking and pronunciation of certain words. She was a very interesting lady and was not afraid to voice her opinion. The original "Liberated Woman" she was known to take days off and go by herself into NYC or Atlantic city. She wore red high heels and drank beer and Irish whiskey into her 80's.

James Arthur CARROLL, son of Felix Patrick CARROLL (1854-1923) and Mary Agnes MCLAUGHLIN (c. 1859-1939), was born on May 19, 1899. He died on September 10, 1934.

He met Helen at the beach when he was 21 and she was 16, it was love at first sight for both of them, they dated for 7 years before they married. He was the quiet type and she was vivacious. He had a gentlemanly manner and goodness and was always respectful and loving. He died when he was 35 after he was made Assistant District Attorney in the Bronx, NY. They dated for 7 years before they married and had three children, Jim, Eileen and Bernie.

1930-1954.

James Arthur CARROLL and Helen Mary Celestine Carns GRAHAM had the following children:

- +2 James Arthur Phillip Jr CARROLL (c. 1930-1954)
- +3 Eileen Mary CARROLL (1931-2021)
- +4 Bernie CARROLL (1934-2016)

Earl (Zev) Winfield GRAHAM, son of Louis Winfield GRAHAM (c. 1881-c. 1958) and Hannah GRIFFITH (c. 1880-1963), was born on March 24, 1903 in Akron, OH. He died circa August 1, 1980 in Long Island.

Both Jim Carroll and Helen knew Zev quite well before Jim died.

Zev was born in Akron, Ohio, moved to NY on the Rose Hill campus to go to Fordham in 1923 on a college baseball scholarship where he played center field and was a formidable batsman. He also played basketball and was described as "a flashy basketball forward. He was 5'6" and weighed 150 pounds. He loved the horses and was a great athlete. He was an outstanding college football quarterback and kicker, leading the University to a 8-1 record in 1925 and earned Honorable Mention All-American Honors. Apparently in one of his best games he had scored a 100 yard touchdown. One of his teammates pointed out that a championship horse named Zev had won the Kentucky Derby and the Belmont Stakes toward the Triple Crown. A match race was set up with the English Derby winner, Papyrus, to determine the world champion. The quadruped Zev won the race by five lengths on October 20, 1923, the same day that Fordham played Lehigh. Lehigh won the game by a score of 9-6, but it was Earl Graham's performance that stole the spotlight. In the fourth quarter, with Lehigh on Fordham's 10-yard line, Graham picked up a Lehigh fumble and ran almost the length of the field to score Fordham's only touchdown. His feat was immediately compared to that of the equine Zev, and he was called "Zev" for the rest of his life. After college Zev served as football and basketball coach at All Hallows High School in the Bronx. He then returned to Fordham Prep to coach football, basketball and baseball for 12 years where he led Fordham Prep football to ten winning football seasons, two CHSAA baseball City Championships and one basketball City Championship. It was during this time, he befriended "Vinny Lombarty" and coached both George and his brother Joe Paterno. In the words of the Class of 1936, "Coach Graham infuses into his cohorts, his own unquenchable spirit and inexhaustible energy" a testament to his belief that great coaches do not just win games, they instill indelible qualities that stay with their players for the rest of their lives. In 1942, Zev was lured away from Fordham Prep to Brooklyn Prep, where he became the school's signature coach of the 1940s. After his time at Brooklyn Prep, Zev coached at Haverstraw High School in Rockland County and at Valley Stream South High School on Long Island, where he spent the remainder of his coaching career. In 1971, he was inducted into Fordham University's Athletic Hall of Fame. It was at Fordham where he met and became friends with "Vinny Lombardy". He later coached both Joe and George Paterno in football at Brooklyn Prep and became lifetime friends.
